

MCI becomes the South African distributor of Snapshot BI

MCI Consultants today announced that they have entered into an agreement with Plus Software in Australia to become a distributor of their Snapshot BI Business Intelligence and Reporting / Dashboarding tool in South Africa, which integrates seamlessly with Sage 300.

“Business Intelligence (BI) Tools can be costly and take time to implement which is why we’ve partnered with Snapshot to provide a real-time Business Intelligence and Reporting Tool for Sage 300 that is affordable, with no upfront software costs” commented Tonya Harvey, Business Partner at MCI.

Snapshot is a powerful dashboard and custom reporting application which provides invaluable business analytics and enables you to manage and report in real time on the key requirements of your business in a fraction of the time.

“Snapshot can be installed and ready to use in minutes and is customisable to suit every company’s needs. It is easy to use, with little to no training required. It can also integrate with various other business systems, not only Sage 300” continued Tonya Harvey.

Established in 2014, the Australian-based company, Plus Software, was born out of the need to solve the problem that nearly every Accounting or ERP solution has, which is “that most Accounting software manages the core accounting needs quite well, but seldom does it provide individuals much needed operational functionality, outside of these financials”. Most Accounting solutions provide Reports and Reporting Tools that pull information from historically entered data. The truth is however, that most team members would prefer to see their business information real-time. To fill that gap, Plus Software developed Snapshot BI.
