MCI launches its Remuneration Planner

MCI Consultants, an IBM Premier Business Partner, today announced the launch of its Remuneration Planner solution; a unique tool that simplifies an organisation's salary increase and bonus planning process.

“Our Remuneration Planner solution was developed specifically to provide clients with an effective alternative to having countless Excel spreadsheets being sent back and forth within an organisation during the remuneration planning process.” commented George Tonkin, Business Partner at MCI Consultants. Remuneration data is captured to one central model and sensitive information is kept secure through access controlled workflow and a full audit trail.

“With MCI's Remuneration Planner, managers at all levels of an organisation are empowered to recognise, reward and motivate their team through individual attention and focus,” continued Tonkin, “and validation against peers and market salary survey data ensures that an organisation is equipped to make informed decisions and retain their top talent thereby reducing regrettable staff turnover.”

“This tool provides a real-time view of an organisation's new salary bill, bonus pool, exceptions and the impact of effecting changes in organisational guidelines, whilst integrating seamlessly with popular HR and payroll systems” concluded Tonkin.
